Extension of STPI Centre at Guwahati

565. SHRI W. ANGOU SINGH: Will the Minister of INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY be pleased to state:

(a) whether the extension of the Software Technology Park of India (STPI) centre has been opened at Guwahati;

(b) the present programme of the centre opened at Guwahati ;

(c) whether there is any plan to open unit centre in other States of North Eastern Region; and

(d) the proposed unit centre of that extension of STPI centre?

THE MINISTRY OF PARLIAMENTARY AFFAIRS AND THE MINISTER OF INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY (SHRI PRAMOD MAHAJAN): (a) to (d) Software Technology Park (STP), Guwahati is establishing High Speed Data Communication (HSDC) facility which will become operational by 15th August, 2000. This centre will also be providing incubation facility to the software exporting units from different States of North East including Sikkim. STP, Guwahati will initially be supporting hub/extension centre each at Gangtok (Sikkim) and Agartala (Tripura) respectively. Once the entrepreneurs establish themselves and set up software exporting units in their State, the STPI would consider establishing additional hub centres in the other North Eastern States.
